Live the Liturgy - Inspiration for the Week

Sometimes we want God's instructions to be clear and precise — like the angel in Joseph's dream. But Joseph's understanding was only as strong as his devotion to God's will. If we give our lives to God as Joseph did, we will know what he asks of us. ©LPi

Holy Voices

Fr. Joseph Juknialis

Instincts come in various shapes and sizes. They may simply be gut feelings, or dreams that seem to speak more than a nighttime fantasy trip. Sometimes, they appear in the form of daydreaming that takes us to another place, or they can be the silent voice of God. Whatever they may be, there are times when they demand our attention.

In Saint Joan, a play by George Bernard Shaw, Joan of Arc has a conversation with Robert about her conviction regarding what God is calling her to do. Joan says to him, "I hear voices. They come from God."

Robert disagrees. "They come from your imagination."

"Of course," says Joan. "That is how messages of God come to us."

Saint Joseph, the husband of Mary, placed a heavy credence on his dream, believing that the dream to keep pregnant Mary as his wife was the voice of God, and so Joseph does just that. Much later, he again listens to a dream and takes his young family to the safety of Egypt and then back home to Nazareth. Those nighttime dreams could have easily become daytime nightmares. Yet, for Joseph, there was something that kept him from simply dismissing them.

Sometimes our inclinations and inner voices may not seem practical, and yet, even as we find ourselves second-guessing them, we think we need to listen to them. When the inclination is one toward goodness, that may very well be the voice of God. †

A Word from Pope Leo XIV

I think it is important for all of us to learn how to listen more, to enter into dialogue. First and foremost, with the Lord: always listen to the word of God. Also listen to others...to know how to listen without judging, not closing the doors [and] thinking that we have all the truth and no one else can tell us anything.

HOMILY, ROME, MAY 11, 2025

Sunday Readings

Isaiah 7:10–14

The Lord himself will give you a sign.

Romans 1:1–7

Through [Jesus Christ] we have received the grace of apostleship.

Matthew 1:18–24

"Behold, the virgin shall be with child and bear a son, and they shall name him Emmanuel," which means "God is with us."

Sometimes our inclinations may not seem practical, but they may very well be the voice of God.

REFLECTION QUESTIONS

- Have you ever followed an inner voice with which others disagreed?
- Who do you trust to tell you if your instinct is good?
