

LOVE ONE ANOTHER, JESUS TEACHES

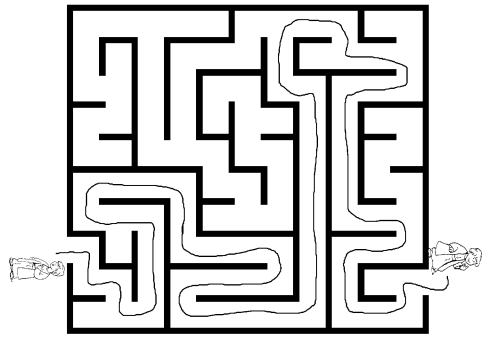

(Jerusalem) — Jesus was getting ready to leave his friends (the disciples) and return to heaven to live with his Father. Before he went away, he gave his friends some help so they would know how to live.

Jesus said, "The most important thing you can do is to love one another." The disciples knew that Jesus was not just making up a new commandment without first doing it himself. Jesus showed God's love everywhere he went. He helped and healed people because he loved them. That last thing Jesus did for the whole world was to love us by dying on the Cross.

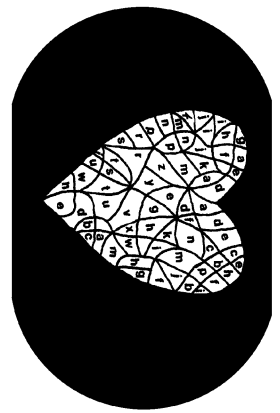

When Jesus told his disciples to love one another, they knew that it was good advice. They also knew that good things would happen when they did what Jesus told them to do.

Find the Picture. Jesus told his followers to love one another. Here is a picture of something that reminds us of love. In order to find it, take your pencil and color or shade in all the spaces with numbers. Do not shade or color any spaces with letters.

Gus the Gospel Gopher says: "I wonder what heaven will be like. Have you ever thought about it? That's where Jesus went when he was finished teaching his disciples. Take the letters in the word "heaven" and see how many new words you can spell with them. I found eleven. How many can you find?"

Follow the Path. Jesus taught his disciples and us to love one another. How can the man get to his friend who is needing help. Can you draw a path from the first man to the second man to show him the way?
